Declaration by the Account Holder

We apply to Close Brothers Limited for foreign exchange services and request you to act in accordance with any instructions which may be, or purport to be, given by telephone, fax, email or in writing by any one of us without enquiry on your part as to the authority or identity of the person making or purporting to make such instruction. In consideration of you accepting instructions from us in this manner, we acknowledge that you will not be liable for any loss arising from unauthorised, incorrect or fraudulent instructions where you, acting reasonably, believed the instructions to be genuine.

Upon receipt of instructions from any one of us by telephone, fax, email or in writing, we irrevocably authorise you to debit our Account with you immediately with the amount due to you under any foreign exchange deal transacted with you, and to credit our Account with you with the value of the currency purchased by us or, if instructed by us, to remit the funds to our nominated foreign currency bank account, as detailed overleaf.

The following clause is only applicable if you have completed the boxes above indicating that you will require us to make 3rd party payments on your behalf.

If, instead of the above, any one of us have requested that all or part of the currency purchased by us is to be remitted to a third party account, we will forward a written instruction to you, signed by any one of us, confirming full details of each such payment to be made and its purpose. Following receipt of our written instruction, we authorise you to make the requested payment. We acknowledge that where a foreign exchange deal is contingent on a third party payment or payments being made by you on our behalf thereafter, we will first advise you of the full details relating to each such third party payment before placing the deal with you.

We undertake that there will always be sufficient cleared funds on our Account with you prior to any foreign exchange dealing by us. Our details on this application form, including our nominated password, will remain in force until such time as you have received notice from us in writing to the contrary, together with any necessary revised documentation required by you. We confirm that the information given on this Application Form is correct and we accept the terms and conditions as detailed in your Foreign Exchange Services brochure and above.
